Let Us All Buy Victory Bonds

And that takes in everybody. Reason, (plenty of them), so much to be done and it all takes money; bringing back our men and women serving in the forces, hospitalization for lots of them, rehabilitation for all of them, help for dependents of those who will not come back, maintenance of occupation troops, financing food, clothes, etc. to starving people.

Victory is won, the war is over, but that does not mean the end of costs. We have done fine so far so don't fall now. Let's all keep on swimming, not sinking. The money doing all these things comes back to us anyway. In the form of prosperity.

Call this loan "The Thanksgiving Loan". Thanks for a chance to sign your name to Victory and also make a super investment. Yes, help give our returned men and women a new lease on life, security and independence. Start them up, They deserve it. Don't fail to buy a bond.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

(By the S. M.)

Having promised the boys to take them somewhere on Saturday last, I accordingly picked them up and away we went to the stamping grounds of our 1937 Camp: you remember, gentle reader? The place where you had to walk for half a mile down an 80 per cent gradient to the campsite in the Three Hills Creek?

The first order of the day was dinner. Some of the boys were doing their 2nd Class Cooking test, and as no cooking utensils were allowed, some of the meat, when skewered, looked decidedly limp and dejected, though the boys ate it, and I believe that they are still alive, though at the moment of writing this, I have not seen them, so cannot truthfully say.

You should have seen Bill Harmonson. He was the accident victim. By the time that we had treated him for a fractured knee, elbow, jaw and brain, had put him aboard a stretcher, and kissed him goodnight, he should have been ready to shout for his mother, but evidently this had not occurred to him as he had a happy grin on his face instead.

His brother Henry looked as though he hoped that no such accident happened to him!

The boys really enjoyed themselves, particularly when climbing up and down steep banks, for whenever they put out a hand to steady themselves, there was always a cactus awaiting to embrace them, and much of my time was taken up pulling cactus prickles out of them.

If any of you readers care to go down to that spot, I am quite sure that you will still find Wray Wright's grin floating in the air.

Alberta Farmers' Union

There will be a special meeting of the Alberta Farmers' Union at 8 p.m., Monday, Oct. 29. This meeting is called for the purpose of having more discussion upon the subject of hail insurance. Great dissatisfaction is still being expressed upon the method under which the Municipal Hail Insurance is being operated and prior to bringing this matter up at the district convention at Didsbury, it is the wish of the executive that this matter be discussed by the farmers of this district so that a clear cut program may be outlined, such program being eventually taken to the district convention and from there to the provincial convention.

We particularly urge farmers who were hailed this year to attend this meeting, especially those residing north of the Three Hills Creek and those southwest of Carbon. Only by pegging away at the government can anything be accomplished in this line, and therefore it is imperative that you attend this special meeting.

So Mr. Farmer, don't leave this matter "to George", but come and give your own personal views.

Plan To Direct The Control Of Atomic Energy

WASHINGTON. — President Truman told congress he would initiate discussions with Canada and Great Britain, "our associates in the discovery," looking toward international co-operation in the control of atomic energy and called on the world to outlaw the atomic bomb.

His plans were outlined in a message to congress asking for legislation setting up an "atomic energy commission" with extraordinary powers to direct and control atomic energy experimentation in the United States, from the viewpoint of its potential value as a benefit to mankind.

It was assumed here that Mr. Truman's views on the international aspect of atomic energy coincided in a large measure with those expressed by Prime Minister King when he discussed international affairs with the president at the White House.

The atomic bomb did not win the war, the president said. "But it certainly shortened the war in the field of the lives of untold thousands of American and Allied soldiers who would have been killed in battle."

The new discovery was too powerful and potentially dangerous to deal with in an ordinary way, the president said. There was not time to wait until the United Nations organization was functioning and able to deal with it.

In the international field, the president said he would first initiate discussion with Canada and Great Britain and then with other nations in an effort to "effect agreement on the conditions under which co-operation might replace rivalry in the field of atomic power."

At a press conference the president was asked if he had taken the atomic secret control with Mr. King in the latter's White House. The president said they had talked over every subject of interest to the United States and that he was not at liberty to reveal any detail.

The president stressed that—temporarily at least—the secret of the atomic bomb would not be disclosed to others.

CANADIAN WHEAT

Has Made White Bread Available For People In Berlin

BERLIN.—Berliners now are getting white bread made from Canadian wheat.

"Military government officials here said that about 5,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were coming into the city monthly either as flour or grain to be milled here. The wheat comes from grain stores built up by the Allies during the last few years for emergency requirements."

It was explained that the military government had decided to provide Berlin with rye bread—which the Germans usually eat—obtained from home production but the rye crop failed in many sections of the British and American occupation zones and only small quantities are available from the Russian zone. So Canadian wheat is being imported.

It is understood that additional Canadian wheat is being distributed to points in the British and American zones but no figures are available.

FREEDOM OF SPEECH

Japanese Man On Street Recently Enjoyed Rare Privilege

TOKYO.—Freedom of speech hit Tokyo with a bang. A broadcasting truck toured the city and invited anybody who liked to stop right up and express his opinion over the Japanese air waves. Many did so.

Rationing politics and voter for women were among the most popular topics discussed. The program marked the first time in more than four years that the Japanese man on the street enjoyed free freedom of speech and it followed by a few hours Gen. Douglas MacArthur's removal of all Japanese government control over the radio.

SECRET MISSION

Movement To Britain Of German War Prisoners

OTTAWA.—International officials here maintained utmost secrecy in connection with the movement to Britain of eight German prisoners of war.

A Reuters despatch from Southampton, England, said the eight closely-guarded prisoners landed from the French liner Pastor when she docked from Quebec.

An international official commented: "All I can say is that eight German prisoners have been sent overseas for a certain undisclosed mission."

He declined to elaborate.

GERMAN SCIENTISTS

WASHINGTON.—A group of outstanding German scientists and technicians are being transferred to the United States in a voluntary basis and under army supervision to aid in military research.

A statement announced. It did not disclose the identity of the scientists.

Prince Rupert Naval Base Was Ready For War

PRINCE RUPERT, B.C. — This northernmost base of the Royal Canadian Navy, which was on North America's front line during the dark days of Japanese aggression has ceased operations after six years of war.

H.M.C.S. Chatham, valued at more than $1,500,000, had a paying-off and decommissioning ceremony at which the white ensign was lowered and the final salute to R.C.N. activities in the land of the midnight sun.

The base, its importance hidden for years under wartime secrecy, would have played an even more vital role if Japan had not surrendered so suddenly. The Allied powers had chosen it as a strategic catapult to hurl men, ships, planes and guns against the Japs.

From the early days of the war, when a few fishermen's reserve vessels patrolled the stormy waters into the open Pacific, R.C.N. operational strength grew until, in November, 1944, 28 ships were on patrol off of Rupert.

The problem of defending the post of Prince Rupert was answered by installation of a boom defence consisting of huge steel nets sunk to a great depth—the deepest known nets in the British Empire. A ship bound, to keep out high-speed enemy motor torpedo boats which might have tried to force entry into the harbor, was located in Metlakatla inland passage.

With increased merchant ship movement and out of Prince Rupert, the necessity of keeping vital war supplies moving was stressed. In one week month, 17 vessels, each weighing more than 10,000 tons, and 20 smaller ships, sailed out of Prince Rupert.

ALLIED COUNCIL

Berlin Has Become Testing Ground In Understanding

BERLIN.—Germany's ruined capital has become a vitally important testing ground in Allied understanding and co-operation and future relations between the Big Four powers may be determined here as much as in conferences in London, Washington or Moscow.

Here is the headquarters of the Allied Control Council and high commanders of Great Britain, the United States, Russia and France meet frequently on questions pertaining to the control and administration of Germany.

The advance headquarters of the control commissions of the four zones in occupied Germany are also located in this wrecked city and Berlin itself is split into four occupational zones administered by the Allied commandants.

In no other city in the world are four great nations in daily contact with each other at a high level. Berlin is facing a great experiment and its success or failure will have a tremendous influence on international relations.

Everything has not gone smoothly here. There have been disputes which have caused uneasiness but general relations between the representatives of the four powers appear so far to have been reasonably good considering the problems which they have to settle over the conference table.

Canadian Bacon Stands High In British Market

LONDON. — Probably the most savory dish found in Britain now post-war is represented by the four ounces a person of bacon available weekly—usually by the grace of Canada.

The food ministry has recognized this appreciation of bacon in a series of advertisements suggesting recipes to make a little bacon go a long way.

Shoppers say that many British buyers do not know their treasured bacon comes from Canada. Even persons handling large quantities of it may fail to notice the "Canada" stamped on Wiltshire sides which of course disappears when the bacon is sliced for sale to the housewife.

One agent who purchases for a large group of Glasgow stores, said he could remember Canadian bacon prominently during the First Great War and the quality of the Dominion product now on sale was "incomparably better."

Irish huns have been considered "tops" by some in the bacon trade with English Wiltshire sides and Danish bacon running second. The Canadian Wiltshires, this agent said he believed, were up to the standards of the best English and when Canadian hams became better known, they would be accepted and approved as being as good as the Irish product.

They were German sailors and army men who landed in Eire during the war and now have left for Germany at the request of British military authorities. They will be confined to the British occupied zone of Germany.

Before leaving they petitioned the government asking permission to remain in Eire but the petition was not granted. They are leaving the best food country in Europe for what may be the worst during the coming winter.

Fear that they might be sent to the Russian zone drove some of them to break parole and these now are being pursued by military police of five countries.

BRITAIN CONTRIBUTIVES

PARIS. — Britain has contributed nearly 450,000,000 (about $360,000,000) to the United Nations relief and rehabilitation administration operating fund against $185,000,000 contributed by the United States.

More Money Needed For UNRRA Fund

LONDON. — The United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation Administration has asked Canada to contribute to its work, plus a further amount in United States funds which may total $20,000,000 to $30,000,000, Rolf Nugent, of the UNRRA bureau of supplies, said at a press conference.

He said he could only give the expenditures in Canada in United States funds roughly as the figures were subject to adjustment later.

Various countries in the international relief agency made contributions on the basis of one per cent of their national income. Although there were unexcused delays in many countries under the first contribution, UNRRA's funds were running short of funds in areas where goods could be obtained.

The appropriation by the home government was committed to the bill and unless the United States made an appropriation of $500,000,000 under the first contribution "we will be embarrassed over procurement program."

Mr. Nugent, who has made a trip through Europe, when the appropriation is going to countries receiving UNRRA aid and the Dominion is a "primary source of most supplies." Textiles, trucks, soap, farm machinery, food, fuel and other necessities were being shipped through other valuable Canadian contributions.

The organization hoped soon to be able to call on exhausted contributions in other countries, such as Australia, where the war had cut off imports had cut into bread and grain supplies from contributing countries, although the food still was plentiful.

Most allocations were far below what was needed. They were being forced to obtain animal protein not subject to allocation, such as blood sausage, horse meat and white meat.

JAP PRISON CAMP

Group Of Allied Prisoners Were In Charge Of A Factory

GUAM.—Six hundred American, British and Canadian prisoners were in full charge of the operation of a Japanese alloy factory at Oyama near Manila, Philippines, when the war in the Pacific ended.

A group of Allied prisoners which included 150 Canadians were in control of the entire production side of the factory with only the office work left in the hands of the Japanese.

The Canadians were in a draft of prisoners who left Samamui camp in the Hong Kong area in September, 1943. For about a year they labored as an iron mine, then practically all worked in the factory or hauled 250 tons of coal daily from a dump a half mile away.

Prisoners unable to work were put in a hospital. During the first year some of them went down to 80 pounds in weight and anyone who weighed 120 pounds was considered in good shape. Twenty-five Canadians died of sickness resulting from malnutrition during the first winter.

The Canadians had no socks and because of the poor quality of the footwear with which they were provided, many suffered from frostbite and some of them now in Guam on their way home are missing several toes. There were fires at the mines and factory only for an hour a day and the prisoners themselves had to find the wood.

SHORTAGE OF PAPER

British Papers May Have To Curtail Use Of Newsprint

LONDON.—The Observer said in an article that the cabinet has decided to suspend newspaper imports from Canada due to lack of dollars to pay for them.

The article said that the Canadian government may be able to advance counter-proposals to avert such a question.

The Sunday newspaper said: "If the situation remains as at present, however, the public will have to reckon with the continuance of waiting four-page daily newspapers for an indefinite period."

The article said that if the government altered its decision not to import newspapers from Canada there was an obvious danger that the material might have been sold to the United States.

DEMOLITION PLANS

LONDON.—Britain plans to demolish approximately 1,500,000 service men and women by the end of this year and approximately 3,000,000 by the end of next June, Labor Minister George Isaacs disclosed.

STOP STRIKE IN FINLAND

HELSINKI.—All locomotive firemen and drivers were called for military service in Finland today after a scheduled strike of 4,000 men which would have tied up all of Finland's railways. As a result, the railway strikers now can be ordered to work, government sources said.

CANADIAN LIBERATED POW'S REACH MANILA.—Members of the Winnipeg Grenadiers and Royal Rifles of Canada who arrived in Manila in March 1945 aboard the R.M.S. hospital ship, Oxfordshire, appear happy over their liberation from Jap prison camps, and the fact they will soon be back among loved ones in Canada. Top picture shows four members of the Royal Rifles, left to right, Rtm. C. Tibbatts, Waterloo, Que.; Rtm. L. Pierotti, Jacques, N.B.; Rtm. H. J. Irvine, Campbellton, N.B.; Rtm. W. A. WHEAT SURPLUSES ARE DISAPPEARING

Canada ended up this crop year on July 31st with approximately 250 million bushels of wheat, which includes some 29 million bushels held by farmers on their farms. This is a big drop from the high mark of 595 million bushels of Canadian "carry over" on July 31st, 1944. Surpluses have disappeared in many other countries in about the same proportion.

This present prairie crop will be decidedly less than normal. If the same exports take place from Canada during this coming year as occurred during this past year, approximately 340 million bushels, then it would seem that on July 31st next the Canadian "carry over" will be something less than 100 million bushels. Should, however, shipping be available to transport all the wheat that is required by the people of Europe suffering from lack of food, then Canada might on July 31st next at the end of the crop year. Yet there were some, it will be remembered, who a few years ago considered that what they called the "burdensome surpluses of wheat" would last for a generation or more. This all illustrates how little we can predict of the future in the world of agriculture.

A Message TO FARMERS from a Farmer

H. H. Hannam is President and Managing Director of the Canadian Federation of Agriculture. In a message addressed to farmers, Mr. Hannam says:

"The farmer who is wise will look ahead and plan carefully.

"And in these years when prices and returns are more satisfactory than they have been, when labor is scarce, when farm machinery is restricted, when building materials are not readily available, a good course to follow would be that of putting a substantial share of the year's earnings into sound securities such as Victory Bonds. These reserves will not only provide a measure of insurance against difficulties in less favorable years, but at such time when supplies are favorable and costs will probably be lower, their purchasing power will be greater and return from them correspondingly increased.

"We believe this is good planning from the farmer's standpoint. At the same time, it is the very best of planning from the standpoint of the Nation."

Seed Testing Service

In accordance with a promise made nearly two years ago, Line Elevator Farm Service now offers a complete seed testing service to growers of wheat, oats, barley, rye and flax. Examination and testing of samples will include consideration of five important factors.

1. Germination. Tests will be made at horsetown.
2. Weed Seeds. The presence of noxious weed seeds will be reported on request.
3. Sprouts. All wheat samples will be tested for bunt (stinking smut) and tests will be made on oats or barley if requested. Reports will include recommendations as to seed treatment.
4. Other Diseases. As samples are removed from the granaries, they will be examined for the presence of other diseases.
5. Mechanical Damage to the seed. This will be determined more if it is an important bearing on the method of seed treatment.

Farmers should instruct elevator agents as to which tests are required. Wheat samples will be grown and examined for various purity and summer if the farmer so desires.

This is the only single laboratory in Canada equipped to perform such a service. The equipment is first-class and the staff well trained. No effort has been spared to insure that methods of testing shall be similar in all respects to those developed in Dominion Government laboratories.

Samples sent to at least 4 offices and not more than 6 offices. Line Elevator agents will provide certificates and send the samples to the Line Elevator Farm Service, Winnipeg.

Its mighty mountain ranges with their mighty perpetual glaciers ensure an ample supply of pure water for irrigation, the development of power and other uses. Untold supplies of natural gas and oil underlie extensive portions of the province. There is an ample supply of building stone, clays for pottery, salt and other natural resources such as the fabulous oil sands of the Athabasca river region.

Alberta's broad fertile plains are capable of growing large quantities of grains and vegetables either for food or for food products, such as sugar and vegetable oils. Extensive tracts of Alberta's treeless prairies are suitable as pasturage for vast herds of cattle and sheep. Her parkland areas are especially adapted to mixed farming, dairying and poultry raising.

Considerable quantities of fish from Alberta's cold northern lakes are marketed regularly in places as far distant as Chicago and Boston. Furs from the northern forests are always in demand in the leading markets of the world.

Alberta is also fortunate because so much of her territory is still much as it was before the white men came. Here, deep within the age-old forests, by beautiful lakes and along the banks of clear, rushing streams and rivers, elk, moose, deer, caribou and mountain sheep and goats together with forest birds exist as they did a thousand years ago and near the shores of thousands of northern lakes innumerable waterfowl make their summer homes and hatch their broods year after year.

Neither is Alberta devoid of inspiration-building grandeur. Her majestically majestic mountains, the freedom of the open air, the carefree days of summer or winter pastimes among her peaks or in her verdant valleys have restored man's tired soul, rekindled many a forlorn hope and revived many lofty ambitions. Alberta, with all her material blessings, has also those cathedrals of stillness, built without hands, from which cultural and spiritual greatness grows.

IT'S THE SMALL JOBS THAT MAKE BIG ONES

THE OTHER DAY WE ASKED A MAN FOR HIS PRINTING AND HE TOLD US:

"OH, OUR PRINTING DOESN'T AMOUNT TO MUCH. ALL WE HAVE IS A FEW SMALL ORDERS, AND NONE OF THEM EVER RUN INTO ANYTHING THAT LOOKS LIKE MONEY."

THOSE LITTLE ORDERS ARE THE KIND THAT MAKE OUR BUSINESS.

MOST OF OUR BUSINESS IS IN PRINTING LETTERHEADS, ENVELOPES, CIRCULARS, POSTERS, OFFICE FORMS, AND OTHER SMALL ORDERS.

WE APPRECIATE A SMALL ORDER AS WELL AS WE DO A BIG ONE.

SO, IF YOU HAVE ANY SMALL ORDERS FOR PRINTING, WE WANT YOU TO KNOW THAT WE ARE GLAD TO GET THEM. WE APPRECIATE THEM JUST AS MUCH—AND TAKE JUST AS GOOD CARE OF THEM—AS IF THEY ACTUALLY AMOUNTED TO HUNDREDS OF DOLLARS.

FOOD SHORTAGE AHEAD

The people of Canada have been fortunate in that food production was at the highest level in history during the war years. The Ontario Federation of Agriculture issued a statement a short time ago pointing out that this condition was liable to end, and predicting that even with all the possible help in the production program in the next nine months Canadian people will feel the food shortage as they have not done before.

CATTLE MARKETING

Cattle producers are following the advice of the federal department of agriculture to market their cattle early. Inspected slaughterings for the week ending August 30th reached about 40,000 head, a record exceeded only once before in the congested week of December 9, 1944. If heavy marketings continue up to October there will be less danger of marketing congestion later on in the year.

NEWS NOTES CARBON AND DISTRICT

Anderson's orchestra, Calgary, will play for a dance in the Scout hall on Wednesday, Nov. 7.

A. G. King, Vancouver, is a Carbon visitor.

W. F. Gartrell, Penitentiary, B.C. is spending a few days in Carbon.

The latest member of the Armed Forces to join the civilian ranks is Jim Cooper. He received his discharge last week.

It is reported that a local nindrod is now without his trusty double barrel. Seems the old blunderbuss couldn't take the extra charge of powder and cracked up. Fortunately the hunter escaped injury.

C. H. Nash and Son are busy this week unloading a carload of spuds.

Secretary's of local clubs and lodges are invited to hand in accounts of their meetings, social activities, etc. Let's make the Chronicle a paper with A.L.J. the news.

POTATO PRODUCTION

Production of potatoes in Canada is estimated at 42,000,000 hundredweight as compared with 40,400,000 hundredweight last year. Average yields per acre in Ontario, Manitoba and Saskatchewan are slightly higher than those of last season, but yields in the Maritime provinces and Alberta are considerably below the 1944 level.

NEW BRITISH SPEED CAR

Lieutenant Robert Morgan, a British Fleet Air Arm Officer, has after six years of research work, completed the plans for a new type of car designed to raise the present world speed record of 368 miles to 520 miles per hour. The invention represents a revolutionary novelty in design and construction of cars. The car consists of a gigantic wheel approximately 12 feet in diameter, which contains the driver's seat and has a pear-shaped body which is largely made out of a special glass and light metal. The car, which the inventor has called the "Bomb" is jet-propelled. It uses liquid gas as fuel, and works almost on the same principle as the German V2 rocket.

TEA IN TABLET FORM

The London "Union of Ceylon Tea Planters" have recently received the first "tea tablets" which should considerably simplify and cheapen the production of tea. They are the result of a process based on long years of experiments carried out by the Research Institute, which reduces the time required in producing tea from 24 hours to 2 hours. By means of the process the tea is made into compressed tablets which saves shipping space. The tablet-form tea is also about 50 per cent stronger than tea in its present form, and allows for a reduction in price.

AVOID A LAND BOOM

Land booms epitomize all the evils and dangers of inflation. During and immediately following the 1st World War we had a land boom. As reported in the "Country Guide" for May, 1944 "Farmers sold out and retired . . . In many cases their farms, run down and weed infested came back on their hands. In other cases the purchasers, to protect their equity, struggled manfully and often hopelessly, to pay for land bought at inflation prices with farm products sold at depression levels. Much of the financial distress on these western plains stems right back through the great depression to the fantastic prices of the first war inflation period."

Right now is the time for farmers to reflect upon the experience of the past. They should resist the urge to buy more land especially if it is not possible to pay cash. Land booms breed on the fear that farms for sale will become exhausted. There need be no fear. Scarcity and high prices are sure to be followed by plenty at low prices.

TALL TALES FROM THE WEST

Said a cow puncher: "I trained a saddle horse so well that the animal obeyed perfectly every command I gave it. One day, mounted on this horse, I was chasing a jack rabbit. The rabbit, in order to elude me, went headlong over the brink of a 1,000-foot cliff. Without hesitation the horse followed."

"I thought my time had come, but then I remembered how thoroughly I had trained my mount, so I just sat tight until we were five feet from the bottom. Then I hollered 'Whoa!' The horse, obedient as always, stopped instantly—and I stepped down, unhurt."

SEASONABLE REDUCTION MOTOR CAR LICENSES

First reduction in motor licenses in Alberta this year will take effect October 1, when there will be the usual 40 per cent cut in the annual license fee, according to information received by the Alberta Motor Association.

In the case of cars which were manufactured in 1935 or in earlier years, the reduction will be 50 per cent of the annual fee.

Through the lifting of wartime restrictions on gasoline, it is expected that there will be a spurt in applications for new licenses this fall. Many owners who have had their cars out of operation for the duration intend to have them in service from now on, providing weather conditions are satisfactory.

On January 1, the reduction in the annual license fee will be 75 per cent, which is the usual decrease at that time for those who wish to operate their cars for the last three months of the license period, from January 1 to March 31.

GRATUITIES MOUNT UP

Rehabilitation isn't so bad after all. Take the case of Flight Lieutenant Doug Wilson of Calgary. When he returned to Canada after more than three years as a prisoner of war, he found Clive Street paved with gold.

His back pay, plus his government gratuities added up to a home coming present of over $11,000.
